We provide the content, you provide the social!

The conference will be hosted online by the College.

Streaming packages will be offered FREE of charge to paramedic societies, however, you may wish to set a small ticket price for your attendees to cover any event costs such as venue hire or catering.

How to host your STUCON 2022 event

1. Book a streaming package with the College (FREE for paramedic societies)
2. Apply for the $200.00 voucher to support running costs*
3. Book a venue at your university to stream the sessions on a big screen
4. Book catering (if you choose to)
5. Determine a price per person to help cover running costs. To encourage participation, keep ticket price low (non-members should be charged a higher fee)
6. Promote the conference and sell tickets! The College will provide promotional imagery and text to assist with promotions^
7. Enjoy watching STUCON 2022 with your student colleagues on 29 July!
8. Manage attendance and send the attendance list to the College afterwards for CPD marking

Further information

The streaming package will include:

- access to the interactive live stream via a dedicated conference page
- customisable conference flyers, digital content and posters for promotional purposes^
- support from College staff (advice on event requirements, set up etc.)

We are offering this content for paramedic societies to stream at no cost. Invite as many attendees as you like, provided that you comply with the local COVID-Safe rules at your event.

^Societies hosting an event will be required to post the social media content provided by the College on their social media platforms.
